When the nobleman from Capernaum heard that Jesus was in Cana, he implored Jesus to come heal his son, who was near to death. Jesus did not directly go to the son, but spoke the words, "Go your way, your son lives!" The nobleman traveled back to Capernaum. His son had been healed. When the water was stirred, the first one into the water was healed. This day, Jesus went to the pool on the Sabbath. He saw a lame man who was attempting to get into the pool before anyone else, but was incapable of doing so. He had been lame for 38 years. Jesus approached the man and asked him, “Do you want to be
